Program Components

This textbook is designed to support your learning of the Georgia Standards of Excellence for Social Studies. This focus centers on the study of Latin America, Europe, and countries with historical ties to Great Britain, including Canada and Australia. You will learn how geography influences your life and the lives of people in these regions. Additionally, you will explore the various forms of government in these areas of the world. You will examine how each focus country addresses basic economic questions. Lastly, you will briefly review the history of the focus countries during the twentieth and twenty-first centuries.

Studying this textbook and utilizing the features listed here will enhance your knowledge. This knowledge will help you become a better student. More importantly, it will enable you to be a better citizen! One day, your name may appear in a book like this one. Students of 21st-century Georgia may read about your contributions to improving our great state and nation!

Print Edition

The print edition of World Studies: Countries, Cultures, and Connections offers significant benefits for middle-grade social studies students. The text is well organized, with each unit and chapter consistently structured across the two-year study. The standards-based textbook ensures that students have access to accurate and age-appropriate content that directly supports classroom instruction and assessment. The printed format allows students to read the overall narrative in the context of carefully selected maps, charts, graphs, and photographs that help bring the content to life and make abstract concepts more concrete. The printed textbooks reduce screen fatigue and offer a reliable, distraction-free resource that supports independent study and homework completion. Most importantly, the print edition serves as a dependable tool for both teachers and students to stay focused on the essential knowledge and skills required by the standards.

eBook

The eBook version of World Studies: Countries, Cultures, and Connections includes all the great content of the printed text. Access to the eBook enables students to utilize the book from various Internet-connected devices. Whether the school has a comprehensive BYOD (Bring Your Own Device) program or simply permits PODs (Personally Owned Devices), students are equipped with the eBook both in and out of the classroom. Reading in the classroom, on the school bus, or at the ball field is facilitated by the flexibility of the eBook.

The eBook contains links to audio recordings, content-related websites, online encyclopedia entries, primary source documents, video clips, presentations, QuickNotes, and workbook pages. Any student with internet access can log in to the student textbook from any location. Students may find that the best experience using the eBook is with Adobe Reader software.

Audiobook

Reading a textbook can sometimes be challenging. Some students learn better by hearing the material rather than seeing it in print. Either way, a professionally narrated audio version of the textbook is just a click away. Internet access is required.

Internet Activities

These activities are online research opportunities. These extension lessons enable students to enhance their learning by exploring a topic more thoroughly through structured research using preselected resources.

PowerPoint Presentations

For each chapter, the teacher has received a PowerPoint presentation to adapt for classroom use. Students can also access these presentations through links in the eBook. Each section of every chapter is summarized on a slide. By studying these slides to preview and review classroom learning, students will retain more of the essential concepts being taught.

QuickNotes

To accompany each chapter and presentation, students have access to dedicated note-taking pages. The QuickNotes handout includes key concepts from each chapter and section, along with blank lines for student notes. Students can use highlighters, markers, and pens to emphasize the information that is most important for their learning.

Puzzles

Puzzle worksheets are provided for each chapter to help students learn the academic vocabulary of this social studies content.

Hyperlinks

Numerous resources are available on the Web that provide additional information on the topics covered in this study. We have included access to some of these to assist students as links within the eBook.

Guided Reading

At times, locating the key facts in a textbook chapter can be challenging. By utilizing the Guided Reading resource, students can focus on the text and concentrate on the most essential content to reinforce their learning.

Self-Checking Quiz

In order to monitor your learning, take the self-checking quiz. You can take it multiple times. Pay attention to any items that you miss as a way of improving your learning and clearing up misunderstandings.

Wrap-Up Games

Wrap-Up Games is a learning and review classroom game for each chapter. Students will select a category and point value to answer questions and compete for the highest score.
