Ancillary Products

To get the most out of your textbook, you need to know about its features and its organization. In addition, you need to know about any extra study aids that support your learning. This book has a number of great resources to help you learn more as you study World Studies: Countries, Cultures, and Connections, 7.

Program Components

Your study of history is not just about learning the past. It is about understanding life today and about getting the education you need to be an informed citizen of our state for the future. Before long, you will have the opportunity to vote. Exercising your right to vote brings the responsibility to be informed about issues and candidates so that, together, we can build a better state.

Using the resources in this program, you can learn more and achieve at higher levels as you consider the history of Southwest Asia (Middle East), Africa, and Southern and Eastern Asia. Learning about government and citizenship is another important part of your education. Geography and economics play a role in our lives too, and we will have many challenges ahead managing both our natural and human resources in ways that make our state the best it can be.

Studying this textbook and taking advantage of the features listed here will increase your knowledge. This knowledge will help you become a better student. More importantly, it will help you become a better citizen! Perhaps, one day, your name will be in a book like this one. Students in 21st-century Georgia may read about your contributions to improving our great state and nation!

Hardback Printed Copy

Some schools prefer that their students have a hardback printed copy of the book that can be held in their hands and taken home. All of the ancillary pieces of the program are available to the teacher, who can duplicate copies for the students.

eBook

The eBook version of your textbook contains all the great content of the printed text. There are advantages to the e-Book. Students have the ability to access the book from many types of Internet-connected devices. Whether your school has a full-access BYOD (Bring Your Own Device) program or simply allows PODs (Personally Owned Devices), you will be ready with the eBook both in and out of the classroom. Whether you need to read in the classroom, on the school bus, or at the ball field, our eBook is ready.

The eBook contains links to audio recordings, websites, online encyclopedia entries, primary source documents, video clips, puzzle worksheets, and workbook pages.

Don't worry about leaving your book at school again. Don't even worry about carrying it home with you. If you have Internet access, you will have access to your student textbook. All the pages of your printed text are available online in digital format. You will be able to view the pages with your web browser or with Adobe Reader software.

Audiobook

Sometimes it is a challenge to read a textbook. Maybe you learn better when you can hear the material rather than see it on paper. A professionally read audio version of the textbook is just a click away if you have Internet access.

Internet Activities

Web-based research can give you a greater understanding of our state. With these Internet activities, you will have the opportunity to dig a little deeper into some of the topics that you are studying.

PowerPoint Presentations

For each chapter, your teacher has been provided a PowerPoint presentation to adapt for classroom use. You also have access to these presentations. Each section of each chapter has been summarized on a slide. You will find that, by studying these slides to preview and review your classroom learning, you will remember more of the most important concepts being taught.

QuickNotes

To go along with each chapter and each PowerPoint presentation, you have access to pages that you can use for taking notes. You will find the key concepts from each chapter and section on the QuickNotes handout. Plus, there are blank lines for you to add your own notes. Use highlighters and/or markers and pens to focus your attention on the information most important to your learning.

Puzzles

Puzzle worksheets are provided for each chapter to help you learn vocabulary and key facts.

Hyperlinks

There are many resources on the Web to provide additional information on the topics you study. We have provided links to some of those to help you expand your learning on topics that interest you.

Guided Reading

Sometimes it is a challenge to find the key facts in the chapter of a textbook. Using the Guided Reading resource, you can focus your attention on the text and identify important terms that will help bring meaning from the words in the book.

Wrap-Up Games

Wrap-Up Games are a learning and review classroom game for each chapter. Students will select a category and point value to answer questions and compete for the highest score.
